Correspondence.

The following from Harry English will be of interest to the public and especially to his many friends in Weymouth.—Ed.

Giles Bay, Nova Scotia, Feb. 19, 1907.

My dear Hawes:

I have just returned from a four weeks' season in St. John's, Newfoundland, and a short description of that famous old city might be of interest to the readers of the Gazette.

The trip began at North Sydney where we embarked on "The Bruce" of the Newfoundland Steamship Co.

After a very rough trip across the Gulf of St.

Lawrence we arrived at Port au Prince, the capital of Haiti.

The colony was performed by Rev. William Hyde of Trinity Church. The bride, who was tasked with the welfare of the colony and her husband, so recently dead.

A very beautiful wedding occurred

Wednesday evening, Feb. 27, in East Braintree at the residence of Mr. John M.

Long on Hillside road. The groom was Mr. James Earle Johnson of Abington and the bride Miss Annie Eliza Johnson of East Braintree. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Hyde of Trinity

tasked with the welfare of the colony and her husband, so recently dead.

The principal source of revenue of course is derived from the cod-fishing industry which is enormous.

The city has one of the finest land-locked harbors in the world, and to it in the hotel window and look out at the entrance of the harbor, called "The Narrows," one would think it was scarcely forty feet wide.

At times the train runs along the edge of cliffs that tower hundreds of feet above the sea.

The entire run is bleak and barren, mountains of rock, utterly devoid of vegetation of any kind, it stands in ever, noise and other noise. After a descent of 15-20 hours, we pulled into Hall's Cove, where all is life, bustle and activity.

This is the one city I have visited that seems to be independent of the rest of the world.

Eighty out of a hundred of the inhabitants have never been off the island, and they will tell you it is the greatest majority on earth, their lamented brother,

Howard Poole, so recently dead.

Mr. Stetson was a native of South

Weymouth, born on Pierce street, 48 years ago. His school was spent in the Pratt and South High and there, as all after life, a social and social disposition inherited from his mother, Sarah

Jackson (Vlach) Poole, won for her sons of friends and comrades. Her's may be said to have been an active life, Possessing a musical talent far above the average of humanity, the choir of the Union church, South Weymouth, had her a valuable assistant in its solo and choruses, and she was no mean amateur with the piano and violin.

Deceased was an active worker in social and benevolent organizations and the following organizations found in her a ready helper. Union church, Old Colony club, Monday club and Mayflower Chapter

No. 63, U. D. E. S.

Funeral services were held at the Interment of the deceased Wednesday afternoon and were largely attended by relatives, neighbors and friends from abroad.

Rev. H. W. Kimball of the Union church conducted the services and the Schubert male quartet of Boston added the following selections: "Lead Kindly Light,"

"Crossing the Bar," and "Good Night."

Floral tributes from many sources were of unusual excellence and testified to esteem of love and affection for the departed. The remains were conveyed to the receiving tomb at Mt. Hope cemetery.

Mrs. Stetson leaves as immediate relatives a husband, one brother, David Vla-gham Poole, and a sister, Mrs. Henry T.

Heed, of Braintree.

Yours truly,

HARRY ENGLISH

GEORGIA'S LIMIT

By FRANK H. SWETL

Copyright, 1904, by Frank H. Sweet

THREE was an insatiable appetite in the platform when three rough, unshaven men in miners' case-trunks arrived and carefully inspected the conductor's ticket book to the train. Two of these had been consigned to the express car. The third looked like a wretched, broken-down package to the seat he sought. He was a gaunt, gaunt-looking boy, with a thin, bony face, and his hands trembled as he held his ticket book open, so eager was he to see if the entries were in order, and if they were not, men rose carelessly and walked backward forward through the cars until they found the objects of their search and seated as near to them as possible.

Strolling along the platform had been two men who appeared to take little interest in what was going on around them. Nevertheless, on the appearance of the three miners, they had moved significantly closer, and had walked aimlessly in opposite directions. When the conductor came through to collect tickets, ten minutes after the train started, one of them was seated directly behind the conductor, and the other sat on the opposite side of the car, behind the man who had referred to himself as "the wretched boy." The conductor shamed him, apparently, to tell him his name, and the man was simple, while the man from Georgia was simple, too.

Presently another significant look between the two men appeared to take place, and the conductor turned his head to the express car, looking sharply at them and the miners. As he came near, the miners' heads turned to him, and the conductor's eyes met his. The two men, who had consigned their baggage to the express car, looked about and nodded good-naturedly.

"Yes," said the conductor, "you're right. You're right. I'm sorry I've put you in trouble. I'm sorry I've put you in trouble."

FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1907.

For want of time to complete it and perfect the organizations as they occur, our list of town offices as published on the 11th page is the old one, and not to be concerned with the recent election.

The election is over and the first event of our annual municipal stir up is passed, but the real business is yet to come, next Monday night we begin with the longest and in many respects the most important Warrant ever presented to the town. Let us approach with minds free from bias and prejudices and a determination to place the town on as good a financial basis as possible doing town business as we should our own, according to our actual needs and supply those to serve us.

Wendall Bradford Clapp Dead.

Sixty-one years ago there was born to Joseph and Susan Threlkell Clapp of Weymouth a son who in due course of time received the name of Wendall Bradford.
He grew to youth and manhood among the scenes and people of his native village and its entire life of sixty years were marked by a deep interest in those scenes, people and the social and political events of his native town.

Weymouth schools from the lowest to highest were his educators and at the completion of his course he sought a business position in Boston, and chose application to business law eventually to the establishment of the business house of Bowditch & Clapp, well known throughout the country in the wholesale millinery trade.

In home affairs Mr. Clapp took a deep interest and was identified wholly with the Union church of Weymouth and Braintree, the Weymouth Savings bank, the Water Board and Electric Light committee of Weymouth, South Shore Community Knights Templars, and Ipswich Hope Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons.

The natural and robust health of Mr.
Clapp began to give way about two years ago and the decline has been continuous with now and then a ray of hope, but the end came at his home on Front Street last Monday.

Funeral services were held on Thursday with a brief service at the home after which the remains were escorted to the Lynn train where more extended exercises took place. Rev. Robert H.
Cochrane officiating, followed by the Kalgoon Temple Service—Arthur Stinson, Commander, and G. H. Parker, Prelate; and Orpheus' Hope Lodge with W. P.
Dundrever, W. M., and M. E. Hawes, Chaplain. The Apollo quartet of Boston added to the different services "Abide with Me," "Some Time Well Understood," "Passing out of the Shadow" and "Never, My God, to Thee." Arthur M.
Hawmes organist.

The remains were conveyed to the Village cemetery with A. P. Worthen, E. W.
Hunt, W. C. Earle, F. L. Torrey, Charles Hayward and Elmer Carr as bearers; the latter represented the Boston office of Mr.
Clapp.

The floral offerings at the home and church were on a very extensive scale and were taken of record from many friends, associates and organizations.

Mr. Clapp's wife Miss Emma P. Nash, daughter of the late Deacon Stephen A.
Nash, and she survives him in the home which his former loved and which he had hoped to enjoy.

Show Industry.

An expectant attitude pervades the show market. Although manufacturers have enough work at hand to keep their shops employed for some time, the work for the spring has not yet materialized as it should at this season of the year. It is the dull time for dealers, for consumers are waiting to buy new spring goods, and it is yet some weeks before the Easter openings occur. Meanwhile, the sale of staple goods goes on in the usual way.

In account of the prices dealers still hesitate to conclude contracts for autumn and winter goods. Those who have visited Boston are acquainted with the designs and character of the lines offered, and soon traveling men will show them to those dealers who do not visit the selling centers. The designs are new, attractive and well made, and should insure large and valuable orders, but so far the price is the block which ties the wheels of progress.

The manufacturer finds himself at this time between three conditions—the increasing cost of production; the demand for cheaper shoes at standard price; and the demand for a high-grade shoe at an advanced price, proportionate to the increase in cost of manufacture. While there is a class of trade to which the standard-price shoe appeals regardless of the intrinsic value, it is acknowledged that the preponderance of custom and demand is in favor of the high-grade shoe. The buying public knows that the best and best-made shoes are, in the long run, the cheapest. They know that the parts of a shoe which make it dependable are not outside but out-of-sight, and that the blue of shoes which conceals the good materials will outwear the shoe that looks the best in the box. The whole manufactory of education and intelligence the lesson has to be taught every day to those who have just waking up to the situation, the beginning of instruction in the past, showing its results at present, and the manufacturer and dealer who try to delect their customers will best serve their own and their customers' interests.—Boston Transcript.

School Committees.

The School Committee held a meeting at the town offices last evening and organized by the choice of Thomas V. Nash as chairman, and John F. Reardon, secretary. The regular routine business was transacted.

TUFTS LIBRARY.

The photographs now on exhibition in the Reading Room are pictures of New Zealand.

Among them are "Maori Pol Dances"; "Taubau Trout"; "Carved House";
"Prize Horses"; and many interesting views of natural scenery.

The exhibition will continue through Saturday, March 23.

Respect YOUR Stomach

GIVE it food that will not irritate or retard the performance of its natural functions, and it will reciprocate in a way agreeable and comforting.

No single ingredient contributes so largely toward wholesome, nourishing, agreeable food as Royal Baking Powder.

Royal Baking Powder's active ingredient, Grape Cream of Tartar, is the most healthful of the fruit products.

This is why Royal Baking Powder makes the food finer, lighter, more appetizing and anti-dyspeptic, a friend to the stomach and good health.

Imitation Baking Powders Contain Alum

"The use of alum and salts of alumina in food should be PROHIBITED. The constant use of alum compounds exerts a deleterious effect upon the digestive organs and an irritation of the internal organs after absorption."

The column under this title will be given to people for a free discussion of any and all subjects, the management of the paper distinctly disclaiming all responsibility for the opinions thus expressed.

On a Raymond and Whitcomb Trip.

Yonkers, California, Feb. 26, 1907.

That's the story.

February 12, with the thermometer at zero, a party of 60 left Boston for southern California. All bark met us about 15 minutes after starting in the shape of a disabled engine, so that it took three hours to reach Worcester where a powerful one took our train of eight cars along at good speed.

The journey through the middle west to Kansas City was pleasant and comfortable with excellent service. The first stop was at the Grand Canyon in Arizona which is a perfectly marvelous sight. An immense crack in the earth miles long and deep, it looks like a vast tunnel coursing through the middle of the rock of the liveliest coloring imaginable, constantly changing color from light gray to deep red, then to delicate pink down to purple, for miles and miles. It was a glorious picture.

Near the Canyon are several tribes of the native Indians, principally the Navajo and Apache. They have a collection of bone tools, and other jewelry, all made from native material. Silver articles are hammered by hand from Mexican dollars.

The designs are original and most of the spoons, bracelets, etc., bear the good luck mark of the ancient tribes. We had the fortune to see a real Indian dance.
They were decorated with war paint and feathers with strings of beads around their necks, silver bracelets and rings without number, and their singing or howling was hideous and in keeping with their ugly appearance.

They brought out the little ones to pick up the money thrown by the visitors. A Navajo rug was our choice from their collection.

Word was received Wednesday from Milton that the high school team was unable to come to Weymouth next Wednesday to play the return game. The boys much disappointed. This was to have been the last game of the season.

The senior and freshman boys' teams are playing in the gymnasium today.

Mrs. Nash has decided to reorganize the glee club. At present it is not satisfactory, and she thinks that the best material in the school is not represented.

Consequently she has adopted a plan of competition. The voices of those desirous of entering will be tested in small groups, and there will probably be about ten from each part of the club. It is hoped in this way to have a good organization, and one that will be capable of doing good work.

If plans develop, a concert may be given this spring.

Now that the basket ball season is nearing its end, attention is being drawn to baseball. A good nine ought to be selected this year. Last spring the team made a good record, and this year everyone is back with the exception of shortstop Nash who graduated with the class of '06. He was a valuable player, but with the material that showed up in the fall it is evident that the place can be filled. Manager Moulton has already partially arranged his schedule on which several strong teams are booked.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Roger Lord, H. H. S., '06, has passed all his mid-year examinations at M. I. T. with good standing. He obtained especially creditable marks in Chemistry.

Supt. of Schools, Abner A. Badger visited school on Monday.

The girls' basketball team is playing in Melrose today against the girls' team of that high school.

The boys' basketball team went to Melrose last Saturday night and were defeated by the Melrose high team in Co. K. hall, 29 to 19, in overtime game.

At the end of the first half Melrose had a comfortable lead, but Weymouth went into the second half with more fire and evened matters up, the score being 16 to 14 at the time it was called. It was agreed to play 5 minutes more. In this period Weymouth shot out of the floor from the floor and one foul, but Weymouth decided the contest by calling it off. The boys' basketball team for Weymouth for the first time this year met worked well with the team. His shooting was good. Wilder and Dow also played well for Weymouth and Carter's jumping showed improved measures.

Cushing played well for Melrose.

The game was characterized by its roughness, general mix ups being frequent. A good following accompanied the team.

Milton that the high school team was unable to come to Weymouth next Wednesday to play the return game. The boys much disappointed. This was to have

The Joint Special Committee on "Observance of the Lord's Day" have made no very elaborate and interesting report, copies of which may be had on application to Representative Russell D. Worster.

When you attend Town Meeting attend it to vote on important measures. A meeting of six hundred people ought to be able to raise more than two thousand and seventy-eight hundred dollars, which is the most important measure in town.

George M. Gavin, Dead.

Mr. George H. Gavin, a well known citizen, died at his home 237 Front street, last Friday after a long illness. He was born in Brattleboro, Oct. 16, 1858. He lived as a widow, five children, six brothers, and two sisters. Deceased was a machinist by trade. He was a charter member of Bay State Conclave, No. 47.
Improved order of Hophatops of Boston. The funeral took place from the Church of the Sacred Heart, Monday morning and was largely attended. Rev.
J. J. Murphy celebrated mass. Mrs.
Mary White of Quincy, sang "Alleluia!" and "Walling." There were many eleggant floral tributes. A large delegation from Bay State Conclave attended the funeral. The bearers were members of the deceased. Patrick of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Thomas, Joseph, Edward and Frederick, twins of Hyde Park.

The interment was at St Francis Xavier Cemetery.

Mu. Editor: Last Monday evening the town refused to amend its by-laws as called for by Art.
36 of the warrant.

The object of the proposed amendment was to prevent the raising of large sums of money at special meetings. It was suggested, of course, by the experience of last year.

It was claimed, however, that emergencies were likely to arise that might make it necessary to raise immediately a sum larger than $1,000; that the voters of the town were intelligent and could be depended upon to vote what they ought, and that they should be careful not to throw away their rights. There were some of the reasons given against the amendment.

It is to be said, in reply, that extraordinary emergencies—such as are not anticipated by laws already made—can be depended upon to stake their own lives, as we find they do in all the other affairs of life. We agree, too, that the men of Weymouth, educated in the best school of government the world has ever seen—our town meetings—do know what they want and how to get the votes for it.

The question is, Are they not only intelligent, but are they so unselfish that they will not avail themselves of the opportunities afforded by special meetings to better one section of the town at the expense of the whole? For instance, the largest village in the town is the Town Hall.
It can get out its voters to vote for anything it wants, easier than any other village can get out its voters to oppose it.

Ward 2, therefore, has the opportunity that no other section of the town has to profit by special meetings.

Will Ward 2 be so unselfish as not to improve its chances? Would any other section of the town, similarly situated, be so unselfish?

Is not this natural selfishness, which is common to us all and is so easily made out to be like local publicizedness, the real reason why town meetings, which are called for a special purpose, are likely to vote extravagant appropriations if they are not in some way restricted by our by-laws?

TOWN MEETING OF 1907. The First Session Remarkable For Lack of Personalities.

Session No. 1 of the business town meeting of Weymouth, which was held last Friday, last Monday night, was the most remarkable meeting that the町 held in the memory of the present generation.
In its freedom from personalities and talk beyond the regular order as they were presented by F. M. Brown, clerk of the association committee.

Under Article 22 it was voted that all taxes shall become due on Oct. 1st and interest at 6 per cent. per annum be charged for all taxes causing unpaid after that date and the collector should receive six cents on the dollar for collection.

In to this time nothing had gone through in rapid order as they were presented by F. M. Brown, clerk of the association committee.

Article 23 was to see if the town would accept the list of jurors as prepared by the Selectmen, and after about the usual amount of discussion, for reasons given, the list was accepted.

Under Article 24 it was voted to raise and appropriate $200 for the preservation and display of historical documents.

Under Article 25 the new schoolhouse in Ward 2 was fixed.

Article 26 was on petition of A. Daniels Hawkes and others to change the By-Laws relating to raising of money at special town meeting, but after several motions and amendments had been made and quite a lengthy discussion had followed, the question was called for and voted in the negative, and the old By-Laws stood.

Early in the meeting a vote had been passed that if the warrant was not completed by Oct. 20, the meeting adjourned until that date, and as it was quite evident that the warrant would not be completed before Oct. 20, a motion to adjourn prevailed and the first session of the 1907 business meeting was at an end, and as we have been stated, the meeting was a remarkably peaceful one.

Old Colony Club.

The interest manifested by the ladies of the Old Colony Club was shown again on Thursday when a large audience assembled in the Union church. The vice president, Mrs. Williams, presided. An instructive program, gleanings from President Roosevelt's visit to the United States, was read by Mrs. Alfred Turrell, Tunbridge committee Mrs. L. W. Atwood, Mrs. Nellie Carrville and Miss Anna Lovewell, from door to door—Walter A. Raymond, R. Hawks, 5, and Ryan, 1. Before Mr.
Sampson, Tuner, Mr. Leonard.

The annual reunion of the class of 39, W.H.S., will be held next Monday evening, May 15th, at the home of Miss Josephine A. Gann, Elmwood Park, East Brattleboro.

The girls' basket ball team played a close game with the Melrose High girls' team at Melrose last Friday afternoon.
The regular class met in Room 6 Monday afternoon, pres. Ralph E. Vining presiding. The business was to decide the win of the class in regard to the evening programs of the graduating ex-class. Last year the old form was abandoned. The prophesy and history were read at the banquet, and a play by members of the class was given before the dancing in the evening. This was new and very pleasing to the public, and Mr.
Sampson favored its repetition. The class met unashamedly to carry out the same plans this year.

Benjamin H. Hunt, W.H.S. '96, spent a few days vacation at home this week from Dartmouth college. He visited the school on Tuesday.

The boys' basket ball team is playing its last game of the season today in the gymnasium against an alumna team.

Chester Wright, W.H.S. '00 will soon enter the Harvard Commercial School of Boston for a course in stenography and bookkeeping. He has been doing office work since graduation last June.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE DISTINCTIVELY A CREAM OF TARTAR BAKING POWDER

It does not contain an atom of phospho-sulfuric acid (which is the product of bones digested in sulphuric acid) or of alum (which is one-third sulphuric acid), un-healthful substances adopted for other baking powders because of their cheapness.

seen in every business, and perhaps especially in that in which he was engaged. These difficulties were sometimes like a angel arrows dropped in poison, and whose multitude was as a cloud shutting out the sun and hiding the way of wisdom, but no matter, he pushed steadily on, believing that a better future would surely come. What though competitors sometimes tried to hurt his trade; what though among the many thousands who worked for him during the years there were some of seriously mistaken thought as to their work and wages, and would do damage unless the wages were increased; what though there were some among his fellow citizens who, in their judgment, his motives of life as indeed every man is misjudged, yet "some of these things were in him"; his determination was ever strong, his face ever to the front, his confidence ever having God as his source and fulfillment.

Yet further, a peculiar feature of Mr.
Dizer's business life was his lifelong determination to remain in business to the very end, and also to keep his name alive in that of the firm. Therefore, whether his brothers or sons were associated with him the firm name was always M. C. Dizer & Co. It was M. C. Dizer who began the business, and when he passed away the name M. C. Dizer was still at the front. Where in all our Commonwealth can such another case be found—a large and well-established business carried on by one man, the company unchanged by succession, continued by single break, survived by a single indego going to probate, the firm name always bearing at its front one and the same name? There can be no parallel to this.

For the first ten years Miss Graves was the nurse and bring-up of Master Alfred C. Wetherell, to which duty she was ever painstaking and faithful. She was much attached to her charge whom she will be sadly missed. Possessing a bright and cheerful disposition she made many friends in this vicinity who shuningly mourn her loss.

Funeral services were held at the house of Alfred C. Wetherell 28 Front street, Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Melvin S.
Wells, pastor of the First Universalist church of Weymouth, and of whose belli-cious death was the minister.

While yet a young man Mr. Hager became deeply concerned for his soul's salvation, recognized that he would have no real success in life unless he must take the later part of his life—the way to God's house.

Mr. Hager had a godly father and mother, his father a deacon of this church for many years; parents who taught him to pray, who told him his need of a Savior, who showed him the way to God's house of worship. In later years he could well repeat with the post script.

One of his best traits is that I declare my birth

But higher far proud pretensions rise,

The son is paraded into the skies.

FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 1907.

If in the two sessions of town meeting which have been held, money has been raised and appropriated which ought not to have been, and the tax rate put beyond what it should be, the result is not much the fault of the promoters of those measures and those who voted for them as it is the fault of those who did not vote. The question may well be asked: What do people do at town meeting? For all the time I have spent here, not once have I seen a single member of the voters present, while a large majority have sat idly by and refrained from voting. For instance, at the first meeting one of the most important questions which have come before the town in many years was carried by a vote of 1,000, and over 300 people did not vote at all on the question, and at the last meeting the same condition prevailed and when more than 400 did not vote on matters which again pushed up the taxes.

Monday Club.

The Monday Club held its regular meeting in the old Fellows' open house, East Weymouth, last Monday afternoon. At the business meeting, the president, Miss McGregor in the chair, some changes in the constitution and by-laws of the club were proposed, to be acted on at the annual meeting which occurs April 1. Mrs. Kate Pierce Thayer, chairman of the educational committee, spoke on "Stamp Savings in the schools" and introduced Sept. 1, A. D. Badger and Mrs. C. E. Hood of Beverly, both of whom explained the methods along that line in other towns.

T. A. Watson of East Braintree, who closed attention of the large force present in the reading of "Anarch, Anarchy," which was read impressively, bringing out the pictures portrayed in the poem most vividly. The interest in the reading was greatly enhanced by the Strand's selections appropriately and skilfully rendered on the piano by John Garrison.

Charles H. Burrell.

After a lingering illness of more than a year Charles H. Burrell passed away at his home on Commercial street in East Weymouth last Saturday.

Mr. Burrell was the last of a large family of sons and daughters of Benjamin Burrell, and was born in East Weymouth 71 years ago.

Funeral services were held at his late home Tuesday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. Geo. G. Schreyer of the Methodist Church, and the burial was at Fairmount Cemetery, with Charles Simons, A. H. Pratt, James L. Lincoln and George Goodnow as bearers.

CONTINUED TOWN MEETING

New Town Hall, Much Talk, Much Appropriation, and Warrant Not Finished.

Agreeable to adjournment the Town Meeting for the current year was continued in the new Town Hall, at East Weymouth, last Monday night. At an early hour a good number of people had gathered and for a while spent their time in inspecting the new structure and commenting on its merit and tidy appearance and well-lighted condition.

Coming to a delay in transit, the moderator was a little late, and when the gavel fell, some seven or eight hundred people had gathered.

On motion of E. M. Brown, clerk of the appropriation committee, Article 23 was taken up and $5,000 appropriated for further construction of the water works.

Article 37 was the next in order and was as follows: By request of the Trustees of Tafts Library, to see if the town will vote to accept the gift of the library, Augustus J. Richards of St. Louis, tendered to the town, and it was voted to take the same up to the ballot box.

Article 45 was as follows: For demolition of buildings, for which the same will be known as the "Angus J. Richards fund," held exclusively for the benefit of the Tafts Library in Weymouth, invested, and the income from used seminally for the purchase of books for said library.

E. M. Winton, Esq., spoke of the valuable services of Mr. Richards as a member of the Board of Trustees of the library from its commencement to the time of his death, and on his motion the gift was accepted and a vote of thanks to the executors of the will of Mr. Richards was passed.

Article 46 was voted to raise and appropriate $1,500 for final payment of the steam road roller purchased last year.

Article 47 raised and appropriated $150 to have a stone placed in the Cape Cod Pilgrim Memorial at to be erected at Provincetown.

Article 48 was as follows: "By request of the Water Commissioners, to see if the town will vote to have them to pay the Town Accountant for his services as Registrar and Collector from April 1, 1906, and for such further time as they may employ him in that position, at same rate they have formerly paid for such services." This article brought out quite a discussion of the services of the Town Accountant which was participated in by the Water Commissioners and others, and an explanation of his work by the Accountant and was finally passed without any action taken.

Article 49 was voted to raise and appropriate $300 to gravel Park street, beginning at the Hingham line in Weymouth.

Article 50 raised and appropriated $300 to build a sidewalk commencing at the house of John A. Shadwell in Ward 5.

It was voted under Article 56 to instruct the Assessors to make a new valuation of the property in the town, subject to taxation, and to employ such clerical assistance as might be necessary for that purpose and it was further voted to raise and appropriate $250 for additional check for that purpose.

The hour was now getting late and as it looked like a walk home in the early hours of the morning or an adjournment, a motion to adjourn to 7:30 next Monday night prevailed and the second session of 1907 Town Meeting came to an end.

TOWN MEETING ENDS

The Third Session Follows in the Wake of the First and Second and Everything Went That Called For Money.

Promised at the appointed time of 8 A.M. B. Ward, George F. Maynard, Ward, and John C. Cook called the third session of the Town Meeting to order Monday afternoon, March 19, 1907, at 1 P.M. There were some seven or eight hundred people who attended in the Town Hall setting down to business.

F. H. Torrey, clerk of the Industrial Committee, made a report on the action of the meeting last night, but we leave that to the reader to wash.

As we say elsewhere, everything went which called for money and $8,500 was added to the recommendation of the appropriation committee not including the building of two new roads which had been laid out by the Selectmen and accepted by the meeting and one of which will be quite expensive.

There was little encouragement for the appropriation committee which had devoted its time and money to the work of making a reasonable tax rate and then let it be treated as though they had a personal animosity against the articles or those who suggested them, when in point of fact there was nothing of the kind in its action.

We ask again, what do people go to town meeting for? We are confronted with an income tax rate, and it was done by less than two hundred people, while some four or five hundred people sat idly and treated it as a joke. Taxes are no joke, they are a job.

MONDAY CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Monday club will be held in the Fellows Opera house, East Weymouth, next Monday afternoon. As there is much important business to transact, it is desirable that every member of the club should be present.

TUFTS LIBRARY.

China.

The photographs now on exhibition at the library are always fine—scenery, architecture and domestic life. The pictures, which are of more than usual interest, will remain until April 13.

Sold Only by Reliable Dealers.

The New Home Sewing Machine can be purchased from reliable dealers only. It is not sold by "Mail Order" houses, or "Department Stores." It is made to wear a lifetime. Call on your nearest dealer and examine it.

A STYLISH SPRING SUIT

about 100 per cent. to a man's appearance, and is a good investment from many standpoints.

Our large assortment of Spring Fashions is not only for you, but for all the latest designs in fashionable effects will be found here, and the men's "fussy" suits have disappeared.

The great effects will be found in the latest designs in hand-knitted browns, greyish, tan, light tan, and in very good taste. We can please you in either color, and you will be delighted with us. We are anxious as well as pleased with our workmanship, our surprises are right, too.

Let us make your next suit.
